First Team Honorees List*

CHICAGO, IL – March 04, 2019 – Panduit, a leading global provider of electrical and network infrastructure solutions, was recently recognized by PMMI Media Group's Automation World magazine's 8th Annual Leadership in Automation Awards First Team Honoree list in the Wired Networking category. The list, based on end-user feedback, promotes excellence within the automation community.

Automation World, the leading business magazine serving automation professionals, launched this community-based program in 2011. The program reflects the growing range of automation technologies and industry's recognition of the outstanding suppliers in the field. Automation professionals were invited to vote for their favorite automation vendors in an open-ended survey.

"We are thrilled to be recognized in the 2019 Automation World Magazine's Leadership in Automation Awards and would like to thank our loyal customers for voting us as one of their favorite networking wired solutions providers," said Ryan Lepp, Vice President, Industrial Automation Infrastructure, Panduit. "This list promotes excellence with the automation community and serves as a trusted source when assessing suppliers as you make product buying decisions now and in the future."

Over two dozen categories are featured, representing the wide variety of automation technologies, software and products in use by today's manufacturing professionals across the discrete, batch and continuous process manufacturing industries.

"We're pleased to recognize the First Team Honorees who offer both excellent customer service and best-in-class product innovation," said Kurt Belisle, Publisher of Automation World. We appreciate the end-users who took the time to vote for their favorite solution providers. Congratulations to the honorees!"
